DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 10-11 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the reference numerals must be in parentheses. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 2 "the fixed side" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, line 4 "the prescribed contact pressure" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, line 6 "the side" and "the sliding position" have no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, line 7 "the sliding contacts" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, line 8 "the two side surfaces" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, line 10 "the two side surfaces" has no antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 2832

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bednarek et al.

Bednarek et al discloses in figures 1-5 a rotational sliding switch including a pole base 15 supported fixed contacts; and movable bases 5 that support movable contacts 30 and can move rotationally so as to cause the movable contacts to slide under contact pressure against the fixed contacts. The rotation position of the side to be detected being detected by the sliding position of the movable contacts with respect to the fixed contacts. The fixed contacts are provided on each of the two side surfaces of the pole base. The movable bases are arranged singly on each of the two side surfaces of the pole base.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-3 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art does not teach or suggest the use of movable bases supporting movable contacts being located on each of two side surfaces of the pole base, which has the fixed contacts in which one of the movable bases is joined to the manual shaft of an automatic transmission while the other base is mated with a plate rotating together with the manual shaft.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Dilly et al, Taniguchi et al, Tomotoshi, and Tsukamoto et al teach various rotational sliding switch structures used in conjunction with the manual shaft of an automatic transmission.
